

Blurry

w o r l d

C h l o é B e a m u d

Vorwort

We, the HfK+G have a project with the university of Pecs called Together Communication and Design for Intercultural Understanding, under which we made a workshop on the topic „Disruption or Way to the “New Normal” online. The idea for this project, was born during this workshop with the University of Pecs. During this week, we were supposed to share in our groups what our life with Corona is like. At the End, very individual and good works were created. However, the most important thing that we students could take away was the exchange between us. In my group there was another „glasses wearer“, we brainstormed about how to overpower and trick the mask and glasses so that they don't fog up. We laughed a lot because no matter what tips we gave each other, none of them really worked. Towards the end he said that he would see the world „blurry“. At first I couldn't immediately place it with the glasses, because I thought he was talking about the Pandemic Situation.

That's how my idea came about, the world is not only blurry for people who wear glasses, but for everyone, because no one knows exactly what the next day will look like. Blurry world is a representation of the current situation, living in a pandemic area - what does a „normal“ everyday life look like?

I would like to thank Prof. Michaela Köhler and Dr. Ádám Guld Ph.D. for making this possible. My thanks also go to the students of the University of Pecs. Thank you!

Situation 1

In the City

Situation 2

Taking the subway

Mund-Nase-Bedeckung auch an den Haltestellen!

→ Dürlewang

← Heunoden

↖ Pragsattel ↗

↖ Westbahnhof ↗

↖ Erwin-Schoettle-Platz ↗

↖ Holzstraße ↗

↖ Planie ↗

Situation 3

Driving Home

Imprint

Design:

Chloé Beamud

Course of studies Communication Design

Winter semester 2020/21

Module

Communication Design II

Profile Crossmedial Advanced

Supervised by Prof. Michaela Köhler

HfK+G

Private University of Communication and Design

State-recognised university for applied sciences

The project was developed in the winter semester 2020/21 as part of the international workshop „Together - Communication and Design for Intercultural Understanding“ which was organised in cooperation with students from the University of Pecs under the direction of Prof. Michaela Köhler and Dr. Ádám Guld Ph.D..

List of participants and teams:

HUNGARIAN STUDENTS:

Balázs Andrea, Bischof Lili, Hamza Marcell, Kardos Anna, Kiss Dorina Ráhel, Kovács Bence, Kovács Hanga Lili, Kovács-Csincsák Mercédesz, Kuglics Sarolta, Móritz Máté, O. Jakócs Anna Liza, Sütő Fanni, Undi Tamás, Werner Luca

GERMAN STUDENTS:

Chloé Beamud, Elisabeth Brezina, Annalena Walz, Pinar Erzengin, Paula Detlaf, Eva Brünz, Derya Kaya, Daniel Schmitt

Funded by the Ministry of Science, Research and the Arts
Baden-Württemberg

